

TROOPS NOT TO BE USED BUT DRY RAIDERS GET BUSY

Reports From Lexington That Prohibition Agents Will Return Into Hills For Ballards Within Twenty-four Hours.

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 14.—Facing the certainty that no assistance is to be looked for from the United States Army, a fact made plain yesterday by the announcement of John W. Weeks, Secretary of War, that federal troops would not be sent to Kentucky to fight moonshiners, the nine prohibition agents now mobilized in this city tonight were laying plans for renewing their efforts to capture Rob Ballard and his band of illicit distillers who are accused of the murders of Prohibition Agents Duff and Treadway from ambush, Duff having been killed on last Saturday while taking part in a raid on the moonshiners' stronghold in Menefee county, and Treadway the following day while with a posse seeking to avenge the murder of Duff.

Although Director Collins would neither deny nor confirm the statement, the report gained currency tonight that the agents would renew their invasion of the moonshiners' mountain fastnesses within twenty-four hours with the determination to bring in Rob Ballard and his associates dead or alive. The agents had hoped to have the support of the War department in their efforts to dislodge the whisky bandits, and counted upon having two bombing planes placed at their disposal with which to comb the mountains for the gang—this in addition to a detachment of federal troops. But the decision of Secretary Weeks has blasted that hope and the agents must return unaided to their raiding tactics.

BEAUTIFUL NEW STORE TO OPEN SATURDAY

Miss Minnie Sproemberg Opens New Grocery in Davis Building—Store One of the Best in the City.

Contractors have completed extensive improvements to the Davis property at East Second and Commerce streets making this familiar old corner into one of the most attractive store rooms in the east end of the city.

Miss Minnie Sproemberg, popular east end grocery store owner, has for the past several days been busy in moving her stock of merchandise from the Blanchard building directly across the street into the new Davis store room.

This new store will be one of the best equipped in the East End and on Saturday, at which time the formal opening will be held, there will be all sorts of demonstrations and free samples for Miss Sproemberg's visitors. A complete line of everything to be found in such a store will be carried at all times. The store is equipped with every sales device known to modern merchandising and it will be worth your while to call on Saturday and give the store a careful inspection.

CAUSE OF THE MUDDY WATER.

Officials of the Maysville Water Company explain that because of certain necessary changes in parts of their machinery, they were unable to pump Tuesday evening and the surplus of water in the reservoirs was used. The pumps are running today and this is the cause of the muddy water being served the public through the mains.

MASON GROWER IS DEFENDANT IN SUIT BROUGHT BY POOL

Twenty Members Are Sued By Burley Co-operative for Alleged Breach of Contract—Liquidated Damages Are Sought.

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 13.—The Burley Tobacco Growers Co-operative Association today filed suits against twenty-six of its members for liquidated damages aggregating more than $10,000. The legal department of the association is handling the cases.

The damages asked for range from $35 to $1,000.

The defendants reside in fifteen counties of the Burley district. Five of the cases come from Barren county, three from Bath, two from Woodford, six from Garrard and one each from Anderson, Washington, Mason, Clark, Trimble, Mercer, Bourbon, Robertson, Owen, Shelby and Lewis.

The petitions allege the signing of the co-operative marketing contract, with its agreement for liquidated damages by the defendants. It is charged that the growers are all members of the association and that they have violated that marketing agreement in failing to deliver the tobacco pledged to the association, and ask judgment for the liquidated damages of 5 cents a pound and the plaintiffs costs, including attorneys fees, in each case.

It is expected that some one of the defendants will take the case, if he loses, to the Court of Appeals, thus obtaining a ruling of the highest state court on the Bingham Co-operative Marketing Law and the validity of the tobacco pooling contract itself, which was upheld by the Bourbon Circuit Court.

The men against whom the suits were filed are: James B. Ledford, William Ishmael and William Russell of Bath county; James Creth and James Colston of Woodford; Charley Moberley, Lonzy Coffey, Hiram Maupin, James Lamb, Edd Lamb and Bill Moberley of Garrard; King Keltley, L. W. Redford, E. E. Williams, C. A. Owensby and Earl B. Ford of Barren; S. T. Murphy of Anderson; Clifton Kidwell of Washington; Russell Wallingford of Mason; Hodge Gray and son of Clark; B. S. Long of Trimble; Coley Smith of Mercer; R. M. Rose of Bourbon; A. D. Overby of Robertson; G. R. Payton of Owen; F. F. Offutt of Shelby, and Clay M. Davis of Lewis.

Suit against Russell Wallingford was brought in the Mason Circuit Court Thursday in which the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association asks liquidated damages in the sum of $150 and $50 probable costs and attorney's fees.

NERVOUS PROSTRATION ENDS NICHOLAS TRAGEDY

Murder In Nicholas County Will Remain Unexplained Because of the Death of the Slayer.

Carlisle, Ky., Dec. 13.—The body of Mrs. Hattie Abner, who died at the Eastern Kentucky Hospital at Lexington, was taken to the home of her husband, Clarence Abner, near Pleasant Valley, from which place funeral services will be held today.

The death of Mrs. Abner is the last chapter in one of the most unfortunate tragedies that ever occurred in Nicholas county. On November 28, she is alleged to have shot and killed her sister-in-law, Mrs. Thelma Swartz, 18, at Mrs. Swartz's home, with a revolver.

Mrs. Swartz was running from Mrs. Abner when she was shot, according to the testimony of two young men who were hunting in the neighborhood and witnessed the tragedy.

Immediately after the shooting, Mrs. Abner jumped into a well nearby in an attempt to end her life. The water was not deep enough to drown her. She was placed in jail here and shortly after being locked in her cell attempted suicide by hanging herself with her apron. Jailor Lawrence discovered her in time and prevented self destruction.

Two other unsuccessful attempts were made by the woman to end her life, one by sticking a safety pin in her temple and one by running a piece of wire in her ear.

On the Tuesday following she was taken to the Lexington institution, after four physicians had testified before a jury in county court that she was of unsound mind.

Mrs. Abner never made any statement concerning the killing other than it was an unfortunate affair. She repeatedly asserted that she wanted to die.

BLACKJACK USED TO KILL RENAKER, HARDMAN HAD TOLD

John Schumaker, Convicted of Killing His Father, Tells on Witness Stand Of Hardman's Conversation While Drinking.

Winchester, Ky., Dec. 13.—A blackjack was the instrument with which the blow which crushed the skull of Leon Renaker was dealt, Scobee Hardman told him in the Clark county jail, John Schumaker, a prisoner confined in "the cage" with Hardman at the time, testified today as a witness for the prosecution.

Talkative, after drinking whiskey given to him in the jail by "Ike" Miller, Fayette county farmer now under sentence for violation of the federal prohibition act, and boastful in the belief that keys filed by him in his cell would make possible an escape preparatory to a flight to France, Schumaker said Hardman declared he "didn't give a damn, now," who knew about the Renaker murder.

Hardman did not, Schumaker said, ever say definitely that he killed Leon Renaker, but he did say, according to the witness, that it was a blackjack, not a lead pipe or automobile jack, with which Renaker was killed and added that he knew about it and Reese Fox didn't, because "Reese stayed on the outside."

Schumaker declared Hardman told him that when he and Fox crossed the Kentucky river, "that night" the ferryman could not have told who they were; that on the other bank they walked down the stream for a short distance and threw the death instrument into the water.

Schumaker, now under a penitentiary sentence for the murder of his father, under a rigid cross-examination, denied that he turned state's evidence against Hardman under promise of assistance in his own case or with that in view.

AUTO DRIVER HAS NARROW ESCAPE AS MACHINE IS HIT

C. & O. Passenger Train Strikes Delivery Truck Smashing the Entire Front—Driver, In Seat, Uninjured.

Neal Gullfoyle, delivery truck driver for the Maysville Tea and Coffee Company, had a very narrow escape from serious injury or instant death Wednesday afternoon late when the truck which he was driving was struck by a west bound passenger train on the C. & O. at the Main street crossing.

Young Gullfoyle says he was caught under the railroad gates at the crossing. The train struck the front of the automobile tearing off the front wheels and the entire front of the automobile. Gullfoyle was sitting in the driver's seat and could not get out but in some manner he escaped all injury.

The automobile is a complete wreck.

DYNAMITE USED TO SAVE TOWN IN GREAT FIRE

Scores of Building Blown Down To Prevent Spread of Flames Which Threatened Town Without Water Supply Today.

Altoona, Pa., Dec. 14. — Dynamite saved the little town of Juniata, near here, from destruction by fire today.

After a desperate battle against flames which, for five hours, had been eating a path through the business district, firemen blew up scores of buildings, confining the blaze within two city blocks.

Shortage of water made fire fighting almost impossible. The borough reservoir was dry.

Shortly after fire was discovered in a barber shop at 4 30 a. m. the Pennsylvania R. R. Tapped its private reservoir and thousands of gallons of water was hurled on the blazing buildings.

The fire, however, continued to gain headway and the railroad water tanks soon were emptied. Then dynamite was used.

Meanwhile railroad workmen labored desperately to lay a pipe line from a second reservoir at Tipton. As the echoes of the dynamite explosions died away the last pipe was connected and a new stream of water was made available.

The fire soon was under control. Twenty buildings were destroyed. Damage will exceed $250,000.

RED CROSS COMES TO RELIEF OF STRICKEN FAMILY.

A former service man in Maysville found himself in a very serious situation Thursday. His wife was very critically ill and one of his small children was suffering from convulsions following a rat bite. The former soldier was without funds and could not get a physician for the sick members of his family. The local Red Cross was informed of the predicament and went to his rescue providing the necessary medical attention.

COMMENT

Maysville and Mason county have reason to be proud of their school systems and of their school executives. Both the city and county superintendents are officials in their state groups and are held in the highest esteem among their fellows over the state.

All attention is turned to Winchester this week where the scene of a prominent Bluegrass family is on trial for the murder of a prominent poultry dealer. The eternal triangle is hinted at in the investigation of the police and the trial therefore gains wide publicity.

Now that the United States Supreme court has decided that both the state and the federal courts may prosecute and punish the same unlawful act in the manufacture, possession, transportation or sale of liquor, it would seem that there should be a slackening of dry law breaking.

According to the State Commissioner of Agriculture's report Burley tobacco of the 1922 crop sold during November averaged $25.83 a hundred pounds which means that the tobacco grower of Kentucky is again making a living wage.

Why not let Uncle Sam's mail be your Santa Claus every week-day in the year to carry a most acceptable Christmas gift to your friend or relative away from home? Call us up about a year's subscription to the Public Ledger. It is really a practical Christmas gift.

If you want to really see the Christmas spirit, go to the Washington opera house on Christmas Sunday afternoon and watch the poor boys and girls of the community receive their treat from the business men. This Christmas treat according to our way of thinking, is one of the biggest things done in Maysville during the year and comes nearer showing the big heart of the community than anything else done.

From the high price of eggs and the scarcity of "nog" in this section, it begins to look as though the supply of egg-nog for the approaching Yuletide is to be rather scarce.

Our Daily Poem

THE PARADOX OF TIME.

Time goes, you say? Ah, no!
Alas! Time stays, we go;
Or else, were this not so,
What need to chain the hours,
For youth were always ours?
Time goes, you say?—ah, no!

Ours is the eyes' deceit
Of men whose flying feet
Lead through some landscape low;
We pass, and think we see
The earth's fixed surface flee;
Alas! Time stays—we go!

Once, in the days of old,
Your locks were curling gold,
And mine had shamed the crow;
Now, in the selfsame stage,
We've reached the silver age;
Time goes, you say?—ah, now!

Once, when my voice was strong,
I filled the woods with song
To praise your "rose" and "snow";
My bird that sung is dead;
Where are your roses fled?
Alas! Time stays—we go!

See in what traversed ways,
What backward fate delays
The hopes we used to know;
Where are our old desires—
Ah! where those vanished fires?
Time goes, you say?—ah, now!

How far, how far, O sweet,
The past behind our feet
Lies in the even-glowl!
Now, on the forward way,
Let us for dhand and pray;
Alas! Time stays—we go!

BIG YIELDERS SPOTTED IN CORN VARIETY TEST.

Lexington, Ky. — In spite of the fact that the ten-year average yield of corn in Kentucky is only a little more than 27 bushels an acre, yields of more than 100 bushels an acre are not impossible, according to results obtained during the summer just past by Neale Tapp, a Henderson county farmer living near Dixie, who co-operated with County Agent D. W. Martin and the extension division of the College of Agriculture at Lexington in running a corn variety test on his farm to find out which variety was the highest yielding one for that section of the state.

One strain of Boone County White corn used in the test made 108 bushels an acre while another variety, Phide of Saline made 105 bushels an acre. A third variety, Island Flint made 104.5 bushels an acre while a second strain of Boone County White made 102 bushels an acre. A local strain of a variety known as the Little Red Cob made 100 bushels an acre.

A third strain of Boone County White made 98 bushels an acre while Reid's Yellow Dent, another variety used in the test, made 95 bushels an acre. Hickory King and Iowa Silvermine, the other two varieties used in the test, each averaged 89 bushels an acre.

The yields in the test were accurately determined by measuring off a representative strip in the various rows and weighing the yield from that strip. With these yields accurately determined it was possible to calculate the yield from an acre.

Henderson county has grown more acres of corn in the last ten years than any other county in the state, County Agent Martin says. The fact that high yields have been shown to be practical possibilities for farmers in the county indicates that the crop will continue to be one of the important ones in that section of the state.

An innovation at a recent wedding in Nevada consisted in having the wedding march whistled by twelve girl friends of the bride.

In China there is a very strange profession for women. It is carried on by elderly ladies, who go the round of the best houses, announcing their coming by beating a drum, and offering their services to amuse the lady of the house. This offer accepted, they sit down and tell the latest scandals and the newest stories and bits of gossip and are rewarded at the rate of a few pennies per hour.

Farmerettes were known to America as far back as the days of the American Revolution, when numerous young women in New York and Carolina formed themselves into bands and, going from farm to farm, reaped the wheat harvest, asking only, "Are the men of the family out with the fighting men?"

A Tennessee girl broke her arm on the eve of her wedding-day, but pluckily went through the ceremony with her arm in a sling, at the appointed hour.

Bryan Greenlee, grocer, 139 West Second street, Maysville, says: "I suffered a lot from backache and there was a deep seated pain across the small of my back. When I did any stooping I could hardly straighten again. My kidneys did not act regularly so I went to Wood's Drug Store and got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's soon fixed me up in good shape and I have not been bothered since." Price 60 cents, at all dealers. Don't simply say for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Greenlee had. MAE MURRAY SCORES WITH "PEACOCK ALLEY"

Love Story of Two Countries With Gorgeous Costumes and Elaborate Settings.

In "Peacock Alley," which will appear Thursday at the Washington Theater, Mae Murray does the most striking characterization of her career. It is a picture which to the natural interest of a powerful love story is added the attraction of gorgeous settings and wonderful costumes.

The story opens in a small American village, shifts to Paris, back to the village and then to New York. It pictures the adventures of a Parisian dancer who forsakes the plaudits and favors of the gay city pleasure to become the wife of a small town American youth only to find that her husband's people are scandalized at her and will have nothing to do with her. Then the youthful lovers try to make their way in New York but the big city proves full of trouble which the lovers finally solve but not in the way that either expected.

As Cleo of Paris, the dancer, Miss Murray does the finest acting of any of her pictures. There is no artist on the screen can display gorgeous costumes to better advantage than the blonde star and she has a wealth of them in "Peacock Alley." Monte Blue in the role of the small town husband plays the part to perfection. Others in the cast are Edmund Lowe, W. J. Ferguson, Anders Randolph, William Tooker Howard Lang, William Frederick, M. Durant and Jeffery Lewis. "Peacock Alley" presented by Robert Z. Leonard, is by Edmund Goulding from a story by Ouida Bergere, and is released by Metro Pictures for Tiffany Productions, Inc. It was directed by Robert Z. Leonard. Oliver T. Marsh was the photographer.
